

SIGHTS TO BE SEEN TO-DAY.

MARCH OF THE MILITARY FROM THE BATTERY TO THE PARK.

Troop, from the Army, Marines, Militia of New York, Pennsylvania, New Jersey, Connecticut, and Georgia, Grand Army Men, Letter Carriers, Firemen, Exempt Firemen, and Italian, French, German, and Polish Organizations Will swell the Line-Unveiling of the Columbus Monument & Brilliant Pageant To-night.

The greatest of all the events of the Columbian centennial celebration will be the military parade of this morning. Between 30,000 and 40,000 men will be in line, and it will take several hours for the column to pass the reviewing stand. The procession will move from the Battery at 10 o'clock, and will follow Broadway to Fourth street, thence west around Washington square, to Fifth avenue, to Fourteenth street, to Fourth avenue, to Fifty-seventh street, to Fifth avenue, to Fifty-ninth street.

The parade will disband on reaching Fifty-ninth street and Fifth avenue, and will not march west through Fifty-ninth street to Eighth avenue. The residents of Fifty-ninth street who have sold windows and erected stands in front of their houses have done so in spite of the fact that the newspapers have repeatedly announced that the troops would not pass that way. They will, however, be able to see part of the parade as Brig.-Gen. Fitzgerald has directed the marshals relative to aid him in the management of the parade.

The columns will be disbanded in the following manner upon reaching Fifty-ninth street and Fifth avenue:

The first division will continue north through Central Park.

The second division will be assigned to them.

Three companies Blue Jackets, one Company Marines

Three Companies Blue Jackets, U. S. Atlanta.

One Company Blue Jackets, U. S. Massachusetts.

One Section Blue Jackets U. S. Vermont.

One Section Blue Jackets U. S. New York.

THIRD DIVISION.

First and Second Regiments, U. S. Acting as Escort to Visiting Troops as FIFTH BRIGADE N. G. S. N. Y.

Brig.-Gen. Louis Fitzgerald, commanding.

Staff-Lieut. C. H. Hill, Assistant Adj'tant General.

Adj'tant-General, R. F. Morrissey, Inspector General.

Major-General, J. A. M. Smith, Adj'tant General.

Major-General, J. A. M. Smith